40-hour Mediation Skills Training

Registration Form

TRAINING OVERVIEW: This intensive, interactive 40-hour training provides both experienced mediators and those new to the field with the perspective and skills necessary to mediate successfully. The course will cover the history and psychology of conflict resolution, mediation theory, and the process of mediation in detail. Participants will develop mediation skills and techniques, improve communication and negotiating skills and learn ways to handle interpersonal dynamics that impede resolution. Each participant will have the opportunity to practice all phases of mediation.

This 40 hour course is more in-depth than the 24 hour training and includes specific training in subject matters such as civil harassment, unlawful detainers as well as ethics, cultural differences and bias. The additional training will explore how to work through impasse and difficult people and how to develop your own mediation practice. This 40 hour training is the industry standard to begin a mediation practice and essential for those wanting to join community panels and/or get involved in court mediation.
